Agenda

- Welcome and Introductions
- Federal Reporting Calendar
  - PIT/HIC data review is wrapping up now, should be done by early April.
  - System Performance Measures are due by the end of May; NCCEH will be contacting agencies in April with submission and review plans.
  - New APR repository Sage will be accepting APRs on April 1.
- FY2015 System Performance Measures data review
- Release of Information (ROI) data entry review
- Data Entry Fundamentals – Enter Data As (EDA) mode, Backdate mode, and Annual Assessments
- Bowman Update
  - Bowman was acquired by Mediware, and then TPG Capital last year; so far, no changes.
  - April 3rd, Bowman will release new reports for the Sage APR repository
    - Create a profile at sagehmis.info now to prepare for this change
    - Old ART APR reports will be available for 3-4 months to come
  - New data quality reports will also be released April 3rd
  - Qlik Sense, a new reporting tool replacing ART, will be released April 10th. Governance Committee has approved funding for in-person training in North Carolina.
- MCAH Update
  - New menu for online training
    - Includes more trainings than NCCEH requires for new users, or Agency Admins
    - HUD Data Standards training was out-of-date and NCCEH has created a replacement
    - To prevent confusion, please contact NCCEH immediately when you know someone will need to be trained
- NCCEH Reminders
  - Please contact NCCEH whenever you have a change in HMIS Users to help protect client data
  - ART report guide is still available here as we transition to Qlik Sense

- o If you can't find a report, submit a request with the NCCEH report request form
- o NCCEH in-person training is available for agencies, please request them on this form.

Open Q&A

- Internal Sharing – Kevin asked about connecting the men's ES and TH projects for client data so that duplicated data entry isn't necessary.
    - o NCCEH will follow-up with IFC to determine how to do this exactly, but yes, it should be possible!
- Trainings on Qlik - When are the trainings going to be released and will NCCEH send them to users?
    - o Yes, NCCEH will let agencies know when trainings are occurring from Bowman and/or the Governance Committee selected trainings. As of now, we only know that Bowman will release online trainings throughout April.
